

SHARK KILLS TWO AND EATS LEG OFF OF A THIRD

Matawan, N. J., July 13.—In the third fatal raid in less than two weeks, a shark killed a man and a boy and mangled another boy so badly that he will lose a leg.

The victims were swimming in Matawan creek, two miles from Raritan Bay, when they were attacked. Lester Stillwell, 12, was the first victim. The shark bit his body almost in half, and dragged him below the surface. Stanley Fisher, 24, saw the boy sinking and sprang in to rescue him. The shark attacked Fisher and ripped off one of his legs. Fisher died last night in the Monmouth Memorial hospital.

Less than a mile from where Fisher and Stillwell were mangled, Jos. Dunn, 12, was attacked and leg so stripped of flesh that it will have to be amputated. He is expected to live.

Motor boats are patrolling the seashore points around New York City today and bathing is almost entirely halted.

New York, July 13. — Recent instances in which sharks have attacked persons at resorts near this city:

July 1, Chas. Epting Vansant of Philadelphia attacked by shark while swimming in surf at Beach Haven, N. J., died soon after being taken to shore.

July 6, Chas. Broder's legs bitten off and his side torn by shark at Spring Lake, N. J.; died before help could reach him.

July 10, a shark chased a canoe in which Esterbrook Carter, nephew of Republican nominee, C. E. Hughes, was paddling at Bridgehampton, L. I.

July 10, four large sharks, believed to be of man-eating variety, reported seen off Asbury Park, N. J.

Twenty-one Florida autoists passed through Chicago enroute from Everglades to Straights of Mackinac.

WOMAN IS CRUSHED BETWEEN NEWS AUTO AND STREET CAR

Walk along Madison street east of Fifth avenue any afternoon at press time and you will see Daily News delivery wagons banked up along the curb for half a block. The wagons leave just room for the street cars to get by and no room for other traffic.

On this block westbound vehicles must violate the traffic rules and move west on the side of the street intended for eastbound traffic. That there have been no serious traffic accidents here is by many considered almost miraculous.

The police apparently do not know of the way the Daily News makes use of this street, or perhaps do not care.

Rose Wolf, 21, 1006 S. Paulina st., was caught between a Daily News delivery auto and a street car in this danger zone today. She was crushed from the knees to the abdomen.

Miss Wolf was about to board a street car when a News wagon, driven by A. Berger, 353 W. 59th, pulled out of the line of machines, crushing her against the car.

WILSON SAYS AMERICA SHOULD BE TEACHER OF WORLD

Washington, July 13. — Speaking before the citizenship convention today, Pres. Wilson declared America is intended to be "a spirit among nations of the world."

"You should find the best way to introduce to newcomer this spirit," said the president. "It isn't fair to the multitudes of men and women of other countries that we should leave them without that friendly help which will enable them to find out what America is like and what she stands for."

"These people should be educated in the same schools that all of us are educated in, that furnished by the life of the community to which we belong."
